

Join the COVID-19 Immunology Consortium BC (CIC-BC) Trainee Group

CIC-BC brings together researchers at all stages of their career to help facilitate collaborations with individuals interested in infectious disease immunology

As a trainee, you also get a chance to meet other trainees and present your work

As a member of CIC-BC, you have access to:

A community of over 100 researchers and trainees from across British Columbia

Quarterly newsletters with news and opportunities

Monthly trainee engagement events including journal club, work-in-progress presentations, trivia night, and more!
